Peabody High School

Petersburg, Virginia

Peabody in Petersburg

Petersburg, Virginia is one of the older cities of English America. It embraces the site and memory of the most important fort on the Virginia frontier of the mid-seventeenth century. It became a town when towns were few in colonial Virginia. Similarly, the town became a manufacturing and transportation center when such centers were exceptions on the southern scene. Petersburg was a military objective and a battleground in two major wars. Certain aspects of its social and economic history are important to state and national history. Some of the residents of Petersburg have been persons of importance in history, and many of the foremost figures in American history have appeared, in one role or another, on the stage of Petersburg history.

Later came the years of change in Petersburg in government and education. Previous to the Civil War, education in Petersburg was looked upon as a private matter and as a result, many excellent private schools for white children and a few for Negroes came into being.

In 1868 it was felt by the members of the first school board that no high school was needed for the Negroes, but the board's minutes mention four elementary schools for Negroes which were established. The council appropriated funds for the operation of these schools, but these were supplemented by funds provided by General Brown, Superintendent of Freedman's Bureau. Another source was the Peabody Fund and a contribution came from a lady resident of New York who wished to pay the salary of one teacher in the Negro schools.

Then in this gleaming highlight of the history of Petersburg, a high school for Negroes, called Peabody High School was built in 1874 on the site of the present Bolling Junior High School on West Fillmore Street. Later a new building on Jones Street was erected and occupied and in 1951 the present building on the corner of Wesley and Jones Streets was completed at a cost of approximately $900,000. This school is the oldest known public school for Negroes.

Thus in the history of Petersburg stands a school that we all are very proud of. As seniors leaving this great school we have accomplished and experienced much in our five year stay.

Foreword

"Our aspirations are as trees — tall and stately"

With the passage of years, you may look upon this school year as the time when the darkness of ignorance suddenly became bright with the gleam of knowledge.

To preserve a record of these moments and the countless other experiences of you and your classmates, this annual strives to capture the "eyes" and "mind" of the scholarship, the leadership, the activities, and the character of Peabody High School.

ALMA MATER

Handwritten musical score for the song "Alma Mater". The score is written on six staves, each with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The lyrics are written below the notes in a cursive hand.

PEA-body we hail Thee Our dear Alma
Mater Our love For Thee Is the Song That we Sing
The Far Away From Thy Walls We shall Wander Ever To Thee Will Thy Fond memory cling Ever Thy
Children Thy memory will cherish Faithful
To Thee We shall All ever be
Ne'er From our hearts will Thy Love
For Thee Perish all of Thy
Children Are loyal to thee

Dedication

CLYDE S. SCOTT

For being so understanding in helping us with our problems and for being a true friend and administrator to us during our glorious years of high school, we, the class of 1962, dedicate this edition of the "Lion" to MR. CLYDE S. SCOTT, former principal of Peabody High School.

As adviser of the 1962 edition of the "Lion," I, with the able assistance of the yearbook sponsors, have had the privilege of correlating and summarizing the activities of the current graduating class for the past five years.

I was guided in this capacity by the following tenet:

A yearbook is a catalogue of events designed to reflect the high school career of the current senior class.

This yearbook is a pictorial history of life around Peabody and is presented as a monument of the achievements of the "62" class.

I sincerely hope that the 1962 Lion achieves that goal.

As editor of the 1962 edition of the "Lion," I have tried to project the various activities and the divisions of our school. I have tried to bring to the attention of the students, parents, and friends the true spirit that prevails at Peabody, and to renew this spirit wherever it might be waning.

I sincerely hope that this yearbook will be proof of the undying spirit and loyalty in the class of "62."

Administration

Congratulations and best wishes!

You have achieved a most significant goal, and we are proud of your success. We believe sincerely that you will go on to many more significant accomplishments. It is my hope that in the long years ahead you will find much happiness and that you will always be satisfied in the knowledge that Peabody has every confidence in your ability to reach the goals for which you aspire.

Again, my Congratulations and best wishes!

ELMORE E. RAINEY
Principal

Congratulations Seniors!

You have finally achieved the goal that you have been pursuing for the past five years. However, this accomplishment is to serve only as a stepping stone to greater achievements on your stairway of life.

I am hopeful that you will be successful in your endeavors whatever they may be and that your formal training at Peabody has prepared you to meet the many challenges that lie ahead.

JESSIE C. WILLIAMS
Assistant Principal

Congratulations to the fine class of 1962 for having reached another rung on the academic ladder of success. Because of the very active leadership roles which many of you have played in the life of Peabody, we feel proud of you and the possibilities for your future.

Some of you have indicated potentiality for achieving great things in life. Through continued preparation designed to enable you to meet the challenges of the future, you will be given opportunity to demonstrate the real worth of your high school training received at Peabody under our direction.

Others of you, perhaps not preferring leadership roles, have demonstrated a splendid sense of loyalty and cooperation to your leaders. Regardless of your roles in areas of scholarship or extra-curricular activities, there will come opportunities for you to reflect creditably on yourselves and on Peabody. By your continued loyalty to the school, by your insistence of developing and maintaining high principles of living, and by your making your influence for good felt in every movement of social, religious, economic, and civic significance in your community, you will contribute immeasurably to the proud name of your alma mater, Peabody High School.

MISS YEARBOOK--

PATRICIA MITCHELL

Miss Mitchell was selected by her peers to be the first "Miss Yearbook" in the school's history.

She was chosen as the senior girl who best exemplifies the qualities of grace, beauty, intellect and charm admirable in a young lady in present day society.

ON THE

The background is a light cream color with a subtle, repeating pattern of small, dark, irregular shapes. Overlaid on this are several large, semi-transparent geometric shapes: a large circle in the upper right, a large oval in the lower right, and a large, irregular shape in the lower left. A vertical band of slightly darker cream color runs down the left side of the page.

The Junior Varsity is composed of these students who are striving to be Varsity performers next season.

Grades

A large, light gray, stylized letter 'K' is positioned on the left side of the page, extending from the top to the bottom. The letter is composed of three thick, parallel lines that intersect at a central point.

MOTTO — LET US STRIVE TODAY FOR A BETTER TOMORROW.

FLOWER — RED CARNATION

FAREWELL PEABODY HIGH

(Tune to: Auld Lang Syne)

Peabody High we say goodbye,
The time has come to part.
Our love for thee will never fail
T'will e'er dwell in our hearts.
We pass along with joy in song,
With joy in song and love.
Gee, its been swell we're glad to tell
As we chant a fond farewell.

II

As fair and bright our future seem,
We may ne'er be known to fame,
But Peabody High our love for thee
is a pure undying flame.
Where'er we go, what'er we do
We'll always cherish you.
And pressing on we say to you
A fond farewell.

Courtney Powell

The silent corridors keep lasting
memories of friendships
To which we now must say goodbye.
How sad the day of parting from Peabody High.
To Peabody and God we'll ever be true
Symbolic of our parents' strength and courage
To God and thee we'll ever be true.

II

How we loved the moments of Peabody's grace
Shared the sorrows of your changing pace
As we look down the halls and think of school life we have led,
Then murmur a little sadly--How the years have fled.

III

Now the hour is nearing for our departure from thee
But in our hearts we'll always cherish and honor thee

Class History

Within this class history can be found many of the outstanding activities and achievements of the Senior Class. May the few things said here be ever memorable in the hearts and minds of this graduating class and may they be stepping stones to greater things in life.

The eighth grade was one of the most exciting and hectic periods of our young lives.

Many of the students, in an effort to become true Peabodians, in every sense of the word, become a part of various activities throughout the school.

In the 9th grade many changes took place in our school lives. Our classes gave us much concern at first but we finally found ourselves progressing. We participated in many activities and excelled in some, but our greatest ordeal was to try to live down the idea of being a freshman. Ernestine Williams, Margie Johnson, and Jean Taylor joined the F. B. L. A. Iris Smith joined the choir. Marion Wilson joined the choir, Latin club, and the pep club. Courtney Powell joined the Latin Club, J. A. A., and the choir. Cornelia Owens joined the Library club, choir, Dramatic club. Richard Jackson joined the choir, projection crew, and the Football Team. Deborah Stewart joined the library club, Red Cross club, Dramatics club, Safety Patrol and J. E. Shields Science club. Janet Wyatt joined the choir. Zealier Greene joined the Pep club. In this, our senior year, the following members were elected class officers: President . . . Samuel Madden, Vice President . . . John Jones . . . Secretary . . . Jean Taylor . . . Assistant Secretary . . . Edith Morton . . . Treasurer . . . Thelma Young . . . Chaplain . . . Thomas Tucker . . . Reporter . . . Dora Perry.

The following persons were the remaining members of the yearbook staff: Ernestine Williams, Bettie Mitchell, James Byrd, Robert Louis, Samuel Madden, Lewis Turner, Jean Randolph, Yvonne Richardson, Patricia Mitchell and Doris Graves. Also, this class selected a yearbook queen for the first time. She is the lovely Patricia Mitchell.

We are happy as we end this phase of our life, but we are saddened because we leave behind many beautiful memories. But, time marches on, and as we, the class of 1961-62, go our separate ways, some to pursue higher learning, others of us in the armed forces to serve our country, and others of us will enter jobs in Industry, we shall always hold Peabody, and all it represents, close to our hearts.

“Last Will and Testament”

Peabody High School Wesley and Federal Streets Petersburg, Virginia

We, the Seniors of Peabody High School of the aforesaid State, City, and Town in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine-hundred and sixty-two, having been declared by our teachers to be of unsound minds, but generous hearts, do hereby declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

To our school, we leave the peace and comfort of our absence.

To the members of the faculty, we leave our sincere gratitude for their interest and patience to guide us.

To the Juniors, we leave our seats in the Senior Class.

To the Sophomores, we leave the new teachers.

To the Freshmen, we leave the hope of becoming Seniors.

 - I, Jean Randolph, will good luck and best wishes to Mr. L. Mason, Jr., who worked so diligently with the yearbook staff of "62."

Class Prophecy

The year is 1975 and the air controlman, Benny Saunders, is announcing to the pilot, Robert Lewis, to land on landing strip no. 2. We are getting off the plane in "Successville," which is the beatnik name for "Happy Land." As we enlightened, I noticed Joel Wallace who was also on the plane. I asked him if he knew any good night spots, and he laughed and said, "I own night clubs all over the world; and right now I am on my way to check on one of my businesses here in "Successville." Well, what are we waiting for, lets go! As we approach the new night club, we see Connie Bryant, Carl Edwards and William King doing the electrical work and putting up the new neon sign reading, "Merton Williams, Disc jockey," and John Bailey on drums. The great success of the club is credited to the music composer Colbert Gales. After eating dinner, we were on our way to the largest hotel in Successville, which was designed by Gayle Carter and exclusively decorated by Patricia Mitchell and Walter Moore, when we saw two photographers Harold Hollaway and Fletcher Blackwell, who rushed by to snap a picture of the champion boxer, Benjamin Fields.

On the next day as we were touring the city, one of our constituents was suddenly attacked by a strange illness. He was rushed to the general hospital where a corp of doctors and nurses were trying to diagnose his case. They called in the medical technician, Dora Perry and the X-ray technician Janet Wyatt. Among the corps of doctors and nurses were Gloria Carey, Marion Wilson, Mildred Wilson, William Carter, Leroy Jones and George Crittendon. As we entered the industrial section of the city, we noticed the large engineering plant owned and operated by the agricultural engineer, Charles Mitchell. His staff consisted of the electronic engineers Joseph Richardson, Thomas Price, Floyd Peebles, and Marvin Hill. The civil engineers were Betty Mitchell, Samuel Madden, James Sidney, Paul Robertson, and Kenneth Williams, and the mechanical engineers were John Brooks and Daniel Gilliam. The secretaries of the various engineers were Priscilla Jones, Margie Johnson, Catherine Parham, Authurette Miller, Edith Morton, Bertha Perkins, Ann Pierce, Jean Taylor, Barbara McCray and Ernestine Williams.

We passed the city library where Ruth Morgan is the librarian. There was a teachers' conference in session. Attending this convention were the following high school teachers of history: Virginia Mann, Teresa Ward, Ernest Brooks, Leroy Edmonds, John Lee, and Earl Parham; of elementary education: Annie Byrd, Barbara McKenney, Arnita Minter, Yvonne Richardson, Thelma Young, James Byrd, and Marion Jones; of physical education: Viola Crews, Delores Smith and Margaret Walker, and a Spanish interpreter Deborah Stewart.

The college in Successville is located about two blocks from the library. As we approached the college, I could see the new dormitory that was being built for the freshman boys. I was told that the plans for the building had been drafted by Joseph Baskerville. As I came closer to the building, I saw John E. Jones laying bricks. The building is to be completed by September of 1976. I went into the main office and there sat Courtney Powell, who is a music teacher at the college. She was having a discussion with the band instructor Maggie Phillips. They told me that a concert was to be held at the college at 6:00 p.m. featuring Gloria Berry and William Lee.

After the concert, Joel reminded me that there was a lot more of Successville to see. This time he took me to the shopping center that had been recently rebuilt. We went into a large department store where I purchased some suits. However, they had to be altered by the seamstresses in the store, who were Otelia Blackwell, Mary Green, Annette Kates, and Rose Wyatt. One of the suits had been tailor made by Richard Jackson. While looking around the store, I noticed two ladies in wave uniforms looking at sale prices, and to my surprise, they were Vandelia Kelly and Josephine Redd, two of my classmates. As I engaged in a conversation with them I found out that Melvin Clarke had become a naval officer and Robert Clarke enlisted in the army. By this time, my packages were wrapped and I said goody-by, and left. Also located in the business section was a medical arts building. I went into the building and looked around. I was surprised to see all the different branches of sciences on the directory. But as I read on, I concluded that the building also had a section for the city clinic. On the list were three excellent pediatricians, Virginia Fultz, Paulette Jones and Fannie Riley, all who had received their M.D.'s. The occupational therapist was Brenda Gatlin and the physical therapist was Lewis Turner. As I read on, the names became more familiar. There were my old friends Jean Randolph, a child psychologist, Ernestine Tomes, a physiologist, William Jones, a physical geographist, Doris Graves, a clinical psychologist, Linwood Neverson and Fred Royall, psychiatrists, and Sadie Chavis, Zealia Greene, Sandra Johnson, Cornelia Owens, and Paul Robertson were all successful sociologists.

I was so enthusiastic about all my friends' success in Successville, that I forgot about visiting the Thweatt Missile Plant, which was named for the nuclear physicist, James Thweatt. However, I heard that the electronic technician was Clarence Hite and the electrical technician, Kenneth Manson.

On the next day, I was sorry I had to leave for home because I had not had enough time to visit the entire city of Successville. On the way to the airport we passed a beautiful Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, where Juanita Smith is a missionary. Just around the corner from the Kingdom Hall was a large building. I asked Joel what the building was used for, and he said it was a building for mechanics. He said he didn't know much about the type of work they did, but the mechanics were Robert Chieves, Walter Edwards, Rockwell Hargraves, Charles Dickens, Thomas Tucker and Lawrence Reed. Upstairs in the building were three I. B. M. operators, Victoria Livingston, Jewel Manson, and Ruby Jones, and two accountants, Gloria Brown and Iris Smith.

As we went into the lobby of the airport, we heard the announcement that our plane was in need of repairs and that the aviation mechanics John F. Jones and Richard Howard were working very hard to find the trouble. As we sat down to wait for the plane to be repaired, I noticed Doris Richardson and Paul Berry getting off another plane, returning to their work in Successville.

As we left the ground, I looked back happily at the small city of Successville where the class of 1962 had successfully accomplished their goals. Indeed a job well done.

Congratulations!!
Graduates!!

Graduates!

Although now you are graduates, you can do a great service for the rest of us, if you never cease to be students--looking for opportunities and ways to cherish the American system of free enterprise and to improve the American way of life. You can be thankful for free schools in a country where you are free to worship and work and think and talk as you please. This is your heritage from the people who built America.

The future is pretty largely in your hands--you must be vigilant and active to combat the evils of socialism, government domination of private industry, and all the "isms" that destroy democracy. The challenge is YOURS--meet it!
